

Abstract of DE4128168

The conforming seal is for the gap between a building doorway and a vehicle backed against it. The frame (8) with apron (10,11) is movable in opposition to the spring (15) into a rest position close to the building (1), in which it is lockable. Stops (20) for the vehicle can be fixed to the building, their depth (Y) being greater than that (X) of the seal when in the rest position.

ADVANTAGE - Improved weather protection, and vehicle can be parked without touching the seal.